

1902 Hollyhock Girl

Today's fashion page is based on a painting by John Hafen, "Girl Among the Hollyhocks" (1902). The beautiful painting shows a girl standing in a field of tall hollyhocks. Clara's outfit is based on the one worn in the painting, and is a light cotton dress trimmed with ruffles, ribbon and lace. The thick stockings and lace-up boots are a classic from the early 1900s. The scenery background has a group of hollyhocks, which are an old-fashioned flower, very popular in naturalized and historical gardens.

PAPER DOLLS BY

MELINDA BOWERS

