

Clara's 1960s Zipper Dress

Clara's dress is a very simple outfit with big pockets and a zipper down the front. This 1960s dress has an A-line silhouette, big square pockets, and a straight yoke as an accent. This is a typical dress from the 60s. Much of the clothing from the 1960s is reflective of the modern art movement, using bold colors and straight lines. To finish off the 60s look, Clara's has long hair, held back with a wide headband. Her shoes have a very low wedge heel, and are decorated with big bows and rhinestone buckles.
