

Clara's 1980s Daisy Jumper

This is a cute jumper from about 1986. The stems of the daisies define the two pleats that give the jumper a little flare. Turtlenecks were very popular in the 80s, and this jumper has a long turtleneck to go with it. However, Clara looked so hot in the turtleneck, I gave her another shirt to go with the jumper, this time a short sleeved t-shirt more suited to summertime. Clara also has some penny loafers – back in style from the 1950s – worn with bobby socks.
