

Clara's 1835 Pleated Dress

Clara's dress is from a time period which is referred to as the Romantic Era in fashion. This dress has some simple pleats which create a beautiful line and detail for the evening gown. A simple, large bonnet adds some emphasis to the outfit, with a bow and a feather for trim. The bonnet is tied with another bow with long trailing ribbon ties. More ribbons tie on the ballet-style slippers that were popular in this time period.
