

Clara's 1895 Victorian Winter Dress

For the winter weather, Clara has a late Victorian Day Dress, a large hat, and warm boots. Victorian dresses in the 1890s were very tailored, decorated, and often had the leg-o-mutton sleeves. Clara's dress is silk with a wide lace collar, and the very typical wide sleeves. The skirt has a bell shaped silhouette, also very popular in the 1890s. Clara's hat has a stiff bow, a buckle, and some feather trim. And finally, Clara has some sturdy boots with thick stockings to keep her warm.
