

Clara's 1891 Party Dress

Fashions in the early 1890s were very ornate. Tight bodices and drapy skirts were quite popular. Ruffles, lace, and bows were consistently found on the extravagant outfits of the time. Clara's elaborate party dress is covered in lace and bows. The ruffles at the neck, elbows, waist, and knee are quite showy, adding enough detail to make this into a princess dress almost any girl would love.

Clara's hat has a wide brim and is completely covered in ruffles and bows.

The party shoes worn by Clara are slippers with low heels. The shoes are covered with ruffled silk, and decorated with small bows to match the dress.

PAPER DOLLS BY

MELINDA BOWERS

